DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments filed December 19, 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

The device is still inoperative and violates conservation of energy. The amendment to the specification to "assist the driving of a rotating object" is merely a restatement of the original "amplifying the rotational force". The device still does not satisfy the law of conservation of energy and as disclosed is completely incapable of doing so in any form. Gravity cannot be used to generate, conserve or amplify the energy exerted on a body. It is an omnipresent, fundamental force that acts on every molecule of a body.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

1. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

The disclosed invention is inoperative and therefore lacks utility.

The device violates the law of conservation of energy. Energy into the system must be equal to the energy out of the system. It is physically impossible for the rotation of the rods to increase the force on the rotating elongated member. The specification states that gravitational force pulls a first end of a rod down in sequence as the elongated member rotates, which is consistent with the force of gravity, however gravity acts on the entire length of the rod, this action is countered equally and oppositely by the second end of the rod being raised as the first end falls, and the friction encountered on both ends as well on as the sliding portion in the middle of the rod where it passes through the rotating elongated member. The net force output is 0. It takes an equal amount of energy to raise the second end of the rod as the first end creates as it falls.

2. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-10 have been considered but are moot in view of the ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

3. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
